APERS is proud to bring its specialist skills to complement those of other professionals

OVERVIEW

At APERS, working with other professionals is in our DNA.

APERS understands that different clients have specific requirements and preferred providers. For us, it is the outcome for the client which is important. This is why, given our underlying experience of employment and regulatory law, APERS is happy to provide bespoke support to other advisors

LEGAL

Given the pressures of legal practice, APERS understands that it is sometimes appropriate to bring in support.

You may have been approached by a client to undertake an internal investigation but are worried about the possibility of a conflict of interests should you be asked to represent that client on the same issue further down the line. Alternatively, you may simply not have the time to devote to such a piece of work, but would naturally prefer not to let the client down.

Whatever the circumstances, APERS can help. We can be appointed direct by the client whilst retaining your services. Alternatively, you may prefer us to act under a consultancy arrangement whereby the work is undertaken with us being part of your team.

SUPPORT FOR HR PROVIDERS

We understand that there can be a lot riding on the decisions taken by you as an HR advisor.

Given our legal experience and specialist HR and management background, if you have a particularly thorny issue to be resolved, APERS is happy to provide the backup support you may require whether that's by way of sense-checking a report, undertaking a particular piece of work on your behalf or helping you to prepare to give evidence to a Tribunal or court. This may be particularly relevant if your client is within the professional or regulated sectors, where an in-depth knowledge of regulatory law will help avoid costly mistakes being made.

REFERRERS

Do you advise businesses and wish you could offer management and HR advice as part of your offering? Perhaps you are an accountant frustrated that your clients come to you for answers around staffing issues or cut you out of those discussions altogether. Either way, we're here to help.

APERS is proud to provide a white label service which will enable you to plug-in to APERS. This enables you to provide a seamless, personal service as an add-on to your own core business. Operated by APERS but via your own business, your clients can be confident that they are getting the right advice as part of the service that you provide.

Alternatively, if you would prefer, we are happy to take instructions direct from your existing clients under the terms of a formal or informal referral arrangement.

Additionally, you may want to join our network of trusted advisors; working alongside us to provide the most comprehensive service we can for our clients.
